Policy for news items on the epi website

News items posted on the epi website are designed to notify epi members quickly and briefly of important news concerning the profession. These news items may relate to activities of the epi and its Committees, to notices and information issued by the EPO, or to legal developments such as EPO board of appeal decisions or IP court decisions. Many epi members subscribe to the notification service, and so receive an immediate report of any newly posted news item.

Identification of poster

While news items should be informative, it is recognised that the style in which the news is presented should be the responsibility of the poster of the news item. In order that the readers of the news item can distinguish between news items which are official notifications of an epi Committee and general news items posted by Editorial Committee members in their journalist role, new items should include a tag line at the end of the news item:

"Posted by PERSON'S NAME on behalf of the XXXX Committee"

Use of photographs and trademarks

If a news item includes a photograph of a person, the agreement of that person should be obtained before posting. If a news item includes a registered trademark, the trademark should be identified as such.

On behalf of the Editorial Committee, 27 July 2022
